3. Comments from the Floor

CLCWA Attorney Bill Schweinle provided a brief overview of the history regarding the Armandwilde development. President Yoder spoke next and said CLCWA is considering a master meter to try and get an idea of how much water is being lost from water line leaks. A back-flow preventer is being installed shortly. President Yoder stated CLCWA will continue to provide water, sewer, and drainage service just as it has been historically doing.

An unidentified resident asked is CLCWA has the power to take over the system according to the state codes, then why can't the taxes be lowered for poor infrastructure or CLCWA take it over? Bill Schweinle answered that CLCWA did not design, build, or inspect Armandwilde's infrastructure, and although CLCWA has the authority to take over, is not obligated to.

Director V. Johnson asked the group of residents who maintains the private streets? The residents stated that they do. Director V. Johnson said that this is a similar situation with the infrastructure.

HOA President Rocky Lai stated that Armandwilde is a victim of 3rd party defaults because the developer went bankrupt. He requested CLCWA's engineer to assess what retro repairs could be done to bring the system up to CLCWA's standard, so he can present the potential costs projection to the homeowners.

Ms. Dooley requested help in understanding what are the specific issues needing correction in order to bring it up to CLCWA's standards. Bill Schweinle said to send a written statement to CLCWA stating what Armandwilde specifically wants.
